

ARLIS's EVOS (Exxon Valdez Oil Spill) FAQ is wonderful, and their list of additional resources is superb. Seeing them, we were inspired to add to it, so here are some additional resources available through the Alaska Division of Libraries, Archives, and Museums. We'd also like to highlight material held elsewhere, so if you have unique materials related to the Exxon Valdez spill, especially single items or small collections, please let me know: freya.anderson@alaska.gov or 907-465-2942.

This collection was compiled by Freya Anderson, with help from Dean Dawson of Alaska State Archives and Record Management, and Katie Fearer, Sheri Somerville, and Jim Simard of the Alaska State Library.

Unique items at the Alaska Division of Libraries, Archives, and Museums

- The Historical Collections at the Alaska State Library has Coast Guard photos of the Storis and Exxon ship, PCA 313
 - Find out more about the collection at:
http://library.state.ak.us/hist/hist_docs/finding_aids/PCA313.doc
 - See images online at Alaska's Digital Archives:
<http://vilda.alaska.edu/cdm4/results.php?CISOOP1=all&CISOBOX1=exxon+coast+guard&CISOFIELD1=CISOSEARCHALL&CISOROOT=all>
- Alaska State Archives and Records Management has thousands of boxes of information related to the Exxon Valdez. In general, access is only in person at the facility. Use their research inquiry form at http://www.archives.state.ak.us/question_form.html, or call 907-465-2270 to request assistance or additional information. Unless noted otherwise, there are no access restrictions on these files. Their resources include:
 - Executive Office of the Governor and Office of the Press Secretary files
 - These have EVOS files, vendor files, travel files, news summaries, clippings, and White House press briefings.
 - Division of Habitat and Restoration files, including EVOS files, EVOS restoration project files, and Exxon Valdez Oil Spill Trustee Council minutes, and subject files.
 - These files include briefings; public meetings; assessments; environmental reports; damage assessments; budgets; fisheries closures; meeting minutes; administrative files and correspondence from Anchorage, Homer, Kodiak, and Valdez; and more.
 - Commission of Environmental Conservation subject files.
 - These include notebooks, program reports, situation reports, Exxon reports, news clips, general correspondence, activity reports, and more.
 - Legislative Committee special committee and subject files (SCOMM), with files of the House and Senate Special Committees on Exxon Valdez Oil Spill Claims Settlement (SCOMM76-77) and the Senate Special Committee on Oil and Gas (SCOMM 78).
 - Exxon Valdez Oil Spill Commission records, 1989-1990
 - Department of Law Exxon Valdez oil spill (EVOS) litigation files.
 - Some of these files may have restricted access and may be located off site. Contact the repository for details.

Resources Worldwide

- ARLIS Exxon Valdez Oil Spill FAQs and Links, 5/20/2010, http://www.arlis.org/docs/vol2/a/EVOS_FAQs.pdf
 - Includes link to their Oil Spill subject guide:
http://www.arlis.org/resources/subguides/?arlis_subject_id=60
- Resources related to the Exxon Valdez in libraries worldwide (WorldCat.org):
<http://alaskastatelibrary.worldcat.org/search?q=exxon%20valdez&dblist=638>
- Government documents related to oil spills in libraries worldwide (WorldCat.org):
<http://alaskastatelibrary.worldcat.org/search?q=oil%20spill&fq=-fm:fic%20%3E%20s0:98000000&dblist=638>
- Exxon Valdez Oil Spill (EVOS) Trustee Council is an organization comprised of three state and three federal trustees and charged with the restoration of the injured ecosystem following the oil spill in the Gulf of Alaska. For their reports, see:
 - Their publications in libraries worldwide (WorldCat.org):
http://alaskastatelibrary.worldcat.org/search?q=au:exxon valdez oil spill trustee council&dblist=638
 - EVOS Trustee Council online publications:
<http://www.evostc.state.ak.us/Publications/index.cfm>
- Prince William Sound Regional Citizens' Advisory Council is "an independent non-profit corporation guided by its mission: citizens promoting environmentally safe operation of the Alyeska Pipeline marine terminal in Valdez and the oil tankers that use it." For their publications, see:
 - Their publications in libraries worldwide (WorldCat.org):
http://alaskastatelibrary.worldcat.org/search?q=au:prince william sound regional citizen's advisory council&dblist=638
 - Prince William Sound Regional Citizens' Advisory Council. List of Resources page:
<http://www.pwsrca.org/resources/index.html>
- Oil Spills in U.S. Coastal Waters: Background, Governance, and Issues for Congress, by Jonathan L. Ramseur. Congressional Research Service (CRS) Report RL33705, current version April 30, 2010. The report is not exclusively about the Exxon Valdez spill, but it does cover it, including some legislation that grew out of it.
 - Find the citation in GreenFile from Ebsco:
<http://search.ebscohost.com/login.aspx?direct=true&db=8gh&AN=44575170&site=ehost-live>
 - Find the full text and access previous versions at OpenCRS:
<http://openocrs.com/document/RL33705/>